

JENNER

TRANSPARENT (ATTACKS VIA APPLICATION)

OFF

FS UNLOCKED

DB UNLOCKED

APP STARTED

MASTER UNLOCKED

R<sub>2</sub> UNLOCKED

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are employed in the public sector has increased by 1.5 million (from 2.5 million in 1980 to 4 million in 1999). The number of people in the public sector who are employed in the health sector has increased by 1.2 million (from 1.2 million in 1980 to 2.4 million in 1999).

There is a growing emphasis on the need to improve the quality of care provided by the public sector. This has led to a number of initiatives, including the introduction of the Health Service Act 1999, which aims to improve the quality of care provided by the public sector by introducing a number of measures, including the introduction of a new regulatory body for the public sector, the introduction of a new system of accreditation for public sector organisations, and the introduction of a new system of performance indicators for public sector organisations.

The Health Service Act 1999 also aims to improve the quality of care provided by the public sector by introducing a number of measures, including the introduction of a new regulatory body for the public sector, the introduction of a new system of accreditation for public sector organisations, and the introduction of a new system of performance indicators for public sector organisations.

The Health Service Act 1999 also aims to improve the quality of care provided by the public sector by introducing a number of measures, including the introduction of a new regulatory body for the public sector, the introduction of a new system of accreditation for public sector organisations, and the introduction of a new system of performance indicators for public sector organisations.

The Health Service Act 1999 also aims to improve the quality of care provided by the public sector by introducing a number of measures, including the introduction of a new regulatory body for the public sector, the introduction of a new system of accreditation for public sector organisations, and the introduction of a new system of performance indicators for public sector organisations.

The Health Service Act 1999 also aims to improve the quality of care provided by the public sector by introducing a number of measures, including the introduction of a new regulatory body for the public sector, the introduction of a new system of accreditation for public sector organisations, and the introduction of a new system of performance indicators for public sector organisations.

The Health Service Act 1999 also aims to improve the quality of care provided by the public sector by introducing a number of measures, including the introduction of a new regulatory body for the public sector, the introduction of a new system of accreditation for public sector organisations, and the introduction of a new system of performance indicators for public sector organisations.

The Health Service Act 1999 also aims to improve the quality of care provided by the public sector by introducing a number of measures, including the introduction of a new regulatory body for the public sector, the introduction of a new system of accreditation for public sector organisations, and the introduction of a new system of performance indicators for public sector organisations.

The Health Service Act 1999 also aims to improve the quality of care provided by the public sector by introducing a number of measures, including the introduction of a new regulatory body for the public sector, the introduction of a new system of accreditation for public sector organisations, and the introduction of a new system of performance indicators for public sector organisations.

Very secure at rest, no online attack

Very secure at rest, key in RAM

completely accessible

Attack!

Attack!

Attack!

Attack!

Very secure at rest, data in RAM

Attack

TRANSPARENT ENCRYPTION (ATTACKS VIA APPLICATION)

Attack!

Very secure at rest, no online attack

Very secure at rest, key in RAM

Very secure at rest, data in RAM

Completely accessible

* Filesystem

PATTERNS

---

STORING